

Wallace Charlton Brittain

Wallace Charlton Brittain passed away on September 30, 2015 from complications related to heart disease. He is survived by his wife Dallas and his son Wallace Carlyle. Wally was a native of Hendersonville, North Carolina. He graduated from Clemson University in 1968 with a bachelor's degree and received a master's degree from the University of Georgia. He was commissioned in the U.S. Army and completed 2 years of active duty attaining the rank of 1st Lieutenant. He served in the U.S. Army Reserve and Georgia National Guard. He retired with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. Wally had a long career with the National Park Service and retired as Chief of Recreation and Conservation Division. Wally was an enthusiastic fan of Clemson football and had a lifelong love of animals. His friends and family will remember him for his kindness and his ability to make others laugh.